The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Need for Good Candidates

One theory is that there are capable people who would run for community offices — if they were invited.

One obstacle to getting qualified people to run is that they fear putting their ability up for judgment against the predecessor office-holder. First-time races often draw a crowd.

That was proven when Lemon Grove, in March, last year, voted to make itself into a city and 23 candidates for council were listed on the ballot.

That's a number that may not be equalled for many years — and then only if enough people become angry enough to become candidates. They would be saying "To heck with my finer sensibilities. I'm mad enough to withstand the pain of candidacy and open my life to public scrutiny."

Factually, that's what happens when a citizen declares his candidacy. Voters want to know about his personal and private life. And the public is entitled to this information so that proper judgment may be made. It would embarrass the whole community, if, for instance, a candidate elected to public office was found later to be co-owner of the town's biggest massage parlor and had a police record as a suspect in a couple of armed robberies.

For the lawyers who may be reading this, we are aware that a convicted felon may lose his right (among other rights) to hold office. For this to happen, he's got to be a convict. Not a suspect.

But there is nothing to fear for a candidate who has had a normal trouble-free life.

The object of this piece is not to frighten but to encourage. It is to encourage concerned citizens to run for office. Particularly persons with business experience. Every office responsible for spending your tax money should have a majority of persons with good, solid business experience.

In Lemon Grove, the school board handles more than $5 million of your money each year. In the Spring Valley-La Mesa School District, the total is usually 4-times larger.

Spring Valley depends on the capabilities of the County Board of Supervisors with no truly representative local group to front for its residents. In Lemon Grove, the Board listens to the city council. This is because the council was elected by local citizens and that means they speak for the majority. Supervisors are cognizant of that important meaning and concern themselves lest failure to do so would be reflected in their own race for reelection.

Soon, on June 6, there will be an election for a vacant seat on the Lemon Grove School District Board of Governors — the post made vacant by City Mayor Jim Dorman's decision to resign under the pressure of growing city business.

In 1980 all five seats will be open on the L.G. City Council. All of these posts theoretically demand that the official have the good of the community in mind on each decision he makes. A school board trustee cannot afford to make mistakes. He cannot have split fidelity. He owes it all to kids and their education. Extravagance and waste or allegiance to special interest groups makes sufferers of youngsters and the public. When it exists, it must be removed.

Before good people can be elected to office, they must first be found. There are many capable and qualified persons who would serve if invited. Lord knows enough uninvited and incapable ones frequently show up on ballots.

Here is the crux of this article. You are urged to read it and respond.

Somewhere, you have a friend or neighbor or acquaintance who is qualified to hold the post. Ask the person to consider running for office. If you feel inadequate to the task, call the writer of this column and the candidate will get an invitation if he has a strong interest in kids and education.

L.G. school trustees receive $80 a month plus expenses when traveling on school business. District health, life and dental-care insurance is provided.

Deadline for filing for the June school election is March 30.

EPIC to Supply Direct Aid To L.G.-S.V. Senior Citizens

Paul Christiansen, Director of EPIC (Effective Problem Intervention Center) for Lemon Grove and Spring Valley has announced a new program.

It is the Seniors Assistance Program and offers two types of services for seniors on low, fixed incomes, according to Linus Heydon, Program Coordinator.

Two trained counselors — Danny Showalter and Rosemary Easton, and one Outreach worker, Rosemary Lewis — are available to discuss any type of problem the seniors may be having difficulty with. Staff members will give direct assistance on problems or assist in locating the type of help needed.

The second part of the program offers the homemaking service of Joyce Bell to seniors on low, fixed income who are having difficulty with homemaking tasks. Also, for home owners with fixed, low incomes, the program offers handyperson services to do maintenance and home repairs.

This type of assistance will be done by Mark Rossoll, carpenter, John Elliott, gardner, Paul Lopez, painter.

EPIC center provides the labor and the home owner will be expected to provide materials such as lumber, paint and parts. Requests for assistance may be phoned to Jane O'Neill, project secretary, at 462-3742.

'Lemonettes' Needed For Old Time Parade

The call is out for "Lemonette."

One of the features of Old Time Days is the parade April 11 in which the L.G. Lemonettes have an important part.

Dressed prettily as ballet dancers, sexboats, barmaids, and other scandalous personalities, they march — if that's the word — in the parade distributing lemon drops to the parade fans.

These men are mostly business and professional people turned semi-clowns for a day.

Vacancies have been created in the Lemonette corps this year by some of the members who have responded to the call of professional responsibilities.

Those interested should contact the L. G. Chamber of Commerce at 469-9621 or write Old Time Days, c/o Bob Mastny, P.O. Box 576, Lemon Grove, CA 92045.

The club started the L.G. 4-H club; underwrites a Bobby Sox team; sponsors a youth holiday basketball tournament; provides flags for Boy Scouts and is co-sponsor of Mt. Miguel High school boxing tournaments. It also supports a variety of other youth projects and gives financial aid to the L.G. Chamber of Commerce, Stenbeck said.

The L.G. Rotary club is composed of local business and professional men. A member of the club will be named director of the pageant.

Jack Doherty Files Petitions For Sheriff

Lemon Grove City Councilman Jack Doherty has filed candidacy petitions for the office of Sheriff with the County Registrar of Voters on February 23.

Upon filing the petitions, Doherty expressed his satisfaction with the strongly favorable response his petition effort received.

"People from every city in San Diego County signed our petitions, and many unincorporated areas were represented also."

Councilman Doherty

Doherty, who was on the street collecting many of the signatures himself, said he has been received well by both Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives.

"The issues that seem to unite them are a dislike for the incumbent Sheriff, and a desire for a new Sheriff who is open and responsive to the people," he said.

"We used this petition drive as a vehicle for beginning our direct voter contact. I plan to win this race by taking our case directly to the voter."

"From my face-to-face contracts, I know that the people are dissatisfied with the current lack of leadership exhibited by the incumbent."

"My candidacy is offering professional, motivated leadership for the San Diego County Sheriff's Department."

Unemployment Comp Due LG Teachers

Uemployment compensation has come to the teachers of the Lemon Grove School District.

The Lemon Grove School Trustees, acting Tuesday night on a federally mandated law which grants compensation to certified employes, voted to sign documents presented to them by the San Diego County Superintendent's Office beginning the program.

Dr. Robert Sutton, LG District Superintendent said the immediate impact would be minimal and assess the budget no more than $5,000.

Since no local teachers have been layed off, no money will be paid.

In other business conducted by the board:

— the board voted to approve a staff competency policy which employs greater scrutiny for teacher candidates.

— The board also approved new disciplinary policies outlining the conditions of expulsion.

OTD Annual Event Adds Council-Dunking Device

The Old Time Days lineup will get the attention of the Old Time Days Parade Committee at the next meeting scheduled for March 15, 7 p.m. in the conference room of Dorman and Dorman, 7760 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

Anyone interested in the event is invited to attend, according to Lou Ann Holaday, Parade chairan.

She said the parade would begin at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 8. It starts east from Vista st. near Massachusetts and winding up at St. John of the Cross Catholic Church where the 3-day Old Time Days Cornival will be in progress on April 8, 8 and 9.

Brenda Coberly is chairman of the carnival. She said one of the features this year will be a councilman - dunking game in which city fathers will sit on a platform over a tank of water. Patrons will throw baseballs at a target. A bulls-eye drops the councilman in the tank. The hours will be distributed so that a person may be able to dunk all five during the day-long event. Fire Chief Adams will also sit on the trap door.

Holaday said the parade would be as least as big as the 1977 verson.

Other functionaries in the annual event are Leonard Klein, trophy chairman; Ed Varley, public relations; C-Cap security and traffic control by the sheriff's department and California Highway Patrol.

Grand marshal will be TV personality Shotgun Kelly and L.G. Mayor Jim Dorman, honorary marshal.

All of the councilmen will be participants.

Miss Lemon Grove—"Charley" Gunderson—will ride as queen.

Holaday said March 8 is deadline for unit entries with the exception of floats. That deadline is March 15.

Community Block Grants Local Projects Listed

A Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program public hearing has been scheduled for March 8, 1978.

Citizens from potential target neighborhoods, participating cities and the general public may discuss community needs and programs at the hearing set for 10 a.m. in Room 310 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway in San Diego.

Neighborhood revitalization is the center of strategy in the County's application to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for Fiscal Year 1978-79 funding of the CDBG program, approved unanimously in principle by the Board of Supervisors.

Suggested by staff are $210,000 in projects for Lemon Grove and $259,800 for Spring Valley.

In Lemon Gorve the recommended breakdown is $70,000 for street improvements; $100,000 for expansion of the community center, and $40,000 for a community development plan.

In Spring Valley $230,000 will go for flood control and the remaining $29,800 for street improvement and walkways.

It was emphasized that the Board of Supervisors would decide what programs would be approved but public input is desired.

General guidelines for the program, including providing activity funding to improve living environment of low and moderate income households, remain unchanged. Recent proposed federal regulations, however, place new emphasis on the community development planning process, highlighting the comprehensive three-year program, resource concentration in neighborhood revitalization areas and a citizen involvement program for planning and implementation.

After staff analysis of the new regulations and the County's previous program, a new strategy was developed for the three-year program. Limited grant funds for focusing on improved housing, upgrading of community facilities and strengthening local economic base in targeted low and moderate income neighborhoods have been proposed.

Specific projects for FY 1978-79 totaling $6,510,000 will be selected by the Board of Supervisors at this public hearing.

Roberta Gean Arballo, 19, a waitress of 8355 Sweetwater way, Spring Valley, reported that she had been burglarized of items valued at $677.

The intruder had twisted the knob from the door of her residence and ransacked her apartment.

Among the items missing was a box of jewelry; a Vitavar camera and a Panasonic color TV worth $500.

An Open House to mark the birthdate of the election to form the City of Lemon Grove. will be held March 8, 3-5 p.m. at City Hall, 3568 Main st.

The ceremony is a prelude to the Happy Annversary Celebration coming July 1, the date on which life was breathed into the city and it became operative.

The latter celebration will be sponsored by the July First Committee, the group which handled the "first day" ceremony last year.

FRAUD FIGHTER — Sheriff's Fraud detective Richard Rabell told the L.G. Chamber of Commerce last week of a new process which allows merchants as a group to consolidate bad checks issued by one person to reach the minimum of $100 at which point the Fraud detail goes to work. Firms should report any size bad check and the Fraud keeps the consolidated record. Fraud's phone is 236-2952. Rabell displays warning signs that should be used by every firm.

There's An Answer

by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale

Lucky One?

Q. I'd like to ask you a personal disturbing question. As a single college student from a rural community, now living in an urban area, I have been exposed to a variety of young single gentlemen.

Each possesses a characteristic such as personality trait, goals in life, father-image or husband-image, that one has always dreamed of her marriage partner to possess.

Should one judge on future compatibility, or present infatuation (love), or just let them all slip by and thus have a lot less worries and problems? In other words, how do you know who is the lucky one?

A. To the present moment, on the basis of your question it would seem that you have not met anyone whom you love. So, you are very smart in letting them all go by.

One of these days, however, you may meet a young man and you will know that you love him and that he loves you. And that could be your lucky moment.

But when that time comes be dead sure that your luck will hold out. And if you feel sure, think positively, go into it honestly, and you can make it hold out forever.

We have a booklet, "How To Make Right Decisions," which has helped others having difficulties such as yours, and a copy of it is on its ways to you. Others reading this column who wish a free copy may obtain one by writing us in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

Like a Widower

Q. My wife, after extensive brain surgery over three years ago, will be a patient in a rest home for the rest of her life.

I'm living the life of a widower.

I met a lady whose husband has been suffering from a similar brain disorder for over six years. We met through this mutual predicament, and for some months now we have been seeing one another discreetly at my apartment.

This town is too small for any appearances on the street. We've arrived at three possible solutions: continue our secret meetings, divorce our spouses and marry, brazenly be seen together in public and let the thoughts of society be damned. Would appreciate your solution.

A. Unless you and the woman do the honorable, decent thing, you will be cursed either by furtiveness or by public reproach.

It would seem that if the doctors of your wife and of the woman's husband concur that there is no possibility in either case of a return to normal mental health, those marriages are, in effect, ended.

Two healthy people who sincerely love each other should, it seems, have a right to be together, but only within a legal marriage relationship.

Afraid To Speak Out

Q. I have a very strong faith in God, but I am ashamed to say I cannot speak of my faith openly. I would like so much to tell others of the joy and peace I have found in Jesus Christ, but I am embarrassed to bring up this subject, even when I know it might help someone overcome a problem.

I might add I am basically a very shy, quiet person who finds it difficult to speak out on any subject. Why am I like this, and is there any advice you can give me to overcome this failing?

A. You must not feel guilty if you do not verbally witness to your faith. The most effective form of witnessing isn't what you say, but what you are.

Be such a radiant, happy, dedicated Christian that by your very demeanor, your actions and your loving, caring spirit, people will say, "That person knows Jesus."

If you continue this way, later on you will find, we are sure, that when the occasion really requires it you will be able naturally to speak out.

Ordination of Homosexuals Docketed for May Assembly

The ordination of professed homosexuals into the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church will be one of the issues facing the 190th meeting of the Presbyterian General Assembly.

The Assembly has scheduled to meet in San Diego on May 16 through 24.

According to Vic Jameson, the director of information for the church's national office in New York City, a recommendation is going to the Assembly asking each presbytery (area governing unit) be allowed to decide for itself on a case-by-case basis.

Jameson said ordination historically has been done in this fashion.

He added a minority report will ask the Assembly to rule ordination of homosexuals unconstitutional under church doctrines.

Other issues confronting the conference will be:

— a plan to reunite the United Presbyterian Church with the southern-based Presbyterian Church.

— the rights of women to hold offices in the local churches will also be docketed,

— as will several proposals for youth groups,

— reports for special studies wil be given,

— and reports on the relationships with Presbyterians of Korean origin will be considered.

HOME-COOKED

This Week's RECIPE

Orange Fluff

Like bears coming out of hiberation, the balmier days of early spring mark robins, rites and the yearly starve-a-thon.

A food group in Chicago is pushing milk for those spring-ritual diets. According to them, milk has about 148 calories per 12-ounces.

This week's recipe, Orange Fluff, incorporates nonfat milk and orange peel. The fluff promises to be about 135 calories per serving.

Orange Fluff

1 envelope plain gelatin
2 eggs, separated
2 cups nonfat milk
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange peel.
1 teaspon grated lemon peel
1 tablespoon lemon juice
4 drops yellow food coloring (optional)

Combine gelatin, egg yolks, milk and two tablespoons sugar. Stir over medium heat until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly.

Remove from heat. Stir in orange and lemon peels, lemon juice and food color. If mixture looks slightly curdled, beat with wire whip to smooth.

Chill until custard begins to thicken. Whip egg whites with remaining two tablespoons sugar until stiff.

Fold into orange custard. Chill until custard will mound on spoon. Spoon into serving dish and chill for at least two more hours. Makes four servings.

World Bullfighting Rivalries Surface At Plaza Calafia

Bullfight history has been marked by classic rivalries. Belmonte and Joselito. Manolete and Arruza. Dominguin and Ordonez. Competitions have been heated, and sometimes deadly.

Currently, in Mexico, another classic rivalry is developing. As has been the pattern, the participants are opposites in styles and personalities.

Antonio Lomelin, the tall, sable-eyed, Mexican bullfight sex symbol, is a exciting, cosmopolitan Matador. The son of a wealthy Acapulco family, Lomelin was supposed to have become a veterinarian.

Instead, he became a celebrated Matador whose career has been marred by several near fatal gorings.

Mariano Ramos, a shy country boy whose family is of modest means, is a deeply serious, extremely artistic Matador who many aficionados considered to be the "Numero Uno" of Mexico. He has never been gored.

Ramos and Lomelin will meet in "mano a mano" competition Sunday in Mexicali's picturesque Plaza Calafia. Each will face three bulls from the San Diego de Los Padres ranch in the 3 o'clock encounter.

Tickets will be on sale at the Plaza Calafia ring. However, due to an anticipated large crowd for this important corrida, Empresario Nicolas Gonzales Rivas has recommended advance reservations. Call (903) 762-9230, in Mexicali or locally (714) 838-2772.

TAKE FIVE

by John E. Wirges

What you see ain't necessarily what you're gonna get. Just because Dave Winfield is working up a sweat in the Padres Spring Training Camp over Yuma way, doesn't mean he's going to be on Alvin Dark's roster when the Padres open National League play.

And the key to that thinking comes from the displacement of Bill Almon from shortstop, where he settled in last year with a .261 batting average and stole 20 bases in an outstanding rookie season.

There is more than one reason for the transfer of Almon, not the least of which is Ozzie Smith, a slick glove man who has just one-half season of experience in the lowest of the minors, but played enough college baseball to MAYBE make up the difference.

"I don't know if he's ready to hit in the majors now," admitted Dark on the eve of spring training, while leaving no doubt that Smith was going to get every opportunity to develop his skills with the best tutoring Padre coaches can muster.

"But a ground ball is a ground ball to him (Smith), and he'll suck it up," Dark added with the assurance of a man positive in his thinking.

The word on Smith really came out of the Padre's instructional encounter last fall. He has range, speed and his glove is a regular vacuum. He's tough, works hard and learns fast. He's also very bright and is within a few hours of earning his bachelor's degree from Cal Poly, San Louis Obispo.

Smith very well could take over at short, but why move Almon to second instead of letting the rookie tackle the job? Almon earned his varsity status with an outstanding rookie year, playing in all but SEVEN games last campaign. All at shortstop.

Unlikely as the change would seem, there is one interpretation that would deem it a prudent move on Manager Alvin Dark's part.

Dark's explanation for the move is two-fold. Smith will probably feel more comfortable playing a position he knows and Almon has a slightly stronger arm and will make the relay from the outfield a bit better, keeping enemy runners a tad more honest.

That's the key. Almon, playing second, will be taking relays from center and right field. That's from George Hendrick and Dave Winfield.

A relay from Winfield? Old cannon-arm? The giant who can throw a ball through a brick wall? The guy who holds the ball and DARES runners to try to take third? That Dave Winfield?

Hell, no. You don't take relays from Dave Winfield. He can hit the catcher with a rope from the right field wall.

But if you take Winfield out of right and play Oscar Gamble in his place, then you need a strong armed relay man. Oscar can hit, run and field with the best of them, but he has a below average arm, even for a left fielder. And in San Diego Stadium, right field is an overnight trip from the wall to home plate.

Add a strong relay at second and Oscar can do the job in right. And that opens a spot in left for Gene Richards, who plays extremely well there and will undoubtedly feel more comfortable than at first base where he is now penciled in to play in Dark's "musical chairs" approach to the San Diego infield.

Put Gene Tenace down as the almost regular first baseman and start Dave Roberts or rookie Rick Sweet behind the plate and all of a sudden Alvin Dark comes out shootin' with one helluva strong lineup.

And Dave Winfield helps a pennant contender somewhere else in return for a proven third baseman and pitching help.

It could happen. It probably will happen. At least Alvin Dark is giving himself every edge in being ready with the proper machinery when right field is being patroled by someone with a less ballistic arm than Dave Winfield. And you can tell them you read it here first.

Judy Rankin—5'3" in Stocking Feet—105 Soakin' Wet—Tour's Top Golfer

Women's golf has been dominated the past two years by a player so dainty and fragile-looking that she's still getting into the movies for half-price.

Judy Rakin, who won $273,625 in 1976-77 (her $150,734 in 1976 is an all-time LPGA high), still buys her size 4 dresses at the nearest children's shop. But there's nothing child-like about her golf game which will be on display March 15-19 in the $165,000 Kathryn Crosby/Honda Civic Classic at Rancho Bernardo.

"Once I had a taste of success," she says, "I went after it a little harder. Now that I've been on top for two years, I'm even more determined in my efforts to stay there."

The blonde Rankin is bigger than a two-iron, but it's close. During one blustery day at the Honda event last year, where she finished 10 strokes off the lead in a tie for 14th, you were concerned that the wind might blow the freckles off her face.

She won seven major events last year, six the year before, and at the same time served as president of the LPGA tour.

"I'm not about to worry over any possible letdown," she says, "I don't have time for that. It seems that the busier I am, both as an athlete and as a wife and mother, the better I play.

"Sure, I realize people are waiting, and possibly even expecting me to fall off. I suppose there's a terrific amount of pressure involved with being the leading money winner. But, honestly, I don't feel it. I don't even think about it."

Even at her size — about 105 pounds and 5-3, Rankin packs a terrific wallop on the course. Her fairway woods are considered the class of the tour and her long-range irons, a most difficult shot for wommen, are brilliant.

"When you start to play when I did (she began at age 6) you learn to make all the shots," she says. "I especially TOP WOMEN'S GOLFER — The tour's top golfer, Judy Rankin will be in the field for the $165,000 Kathryn Crosby / Honda Civic Golf Classic March 15-19 at Rancho Bernardo. Rankin has won nearly $275,000 in tournament purses the last two years and heads a strongest-possible field that includes Laura Baugh, Sally Little, Kathy Whitworth, JoAnne Carner, Hollis Stacy and Donna Young.

enjoyed hitting the fairway wood as a youngster so naturally it would be one of my strongest clubs now."

The Honda Classic, which is played for the benefit of the Children's Hospital and Health Center, now has announced as entrants the top three women golfers of last year — Rankin, JoAnne Carner, Kathy Whitworth — and seven of the top ten — Hollis Stacy, Pat Bradley, Sandra Post and Sally Little. It is expected that all top 20 players will compete and officials are looking for a record-breaking field numbering 110 or more.

Other leading players previously announced include Laura Baugh, Amy Alcott, Donna Young, Carol Mann, Pam Higgins, Mary Mills, Nancy Lopez, Beverly Kloss and Jo Ann Washam.

Players now announced as having committed to play are Debbie Massey, Kathy McMullen, Mary Lou Crocker, Sandra Spuzich, Beth Stone, Kathy Cornelius and Carole Jo Skala.

Noise Abatement Board Drops Ban on Hydros

Support from all segments of San Diego popped out when news broke that the annual Unlimited hydroplane races were in jeopardy recently.

"We were amazed by the public response to the problem," Sam Parisa, chairman of the Thunderboat Board of Governor's, said. "The level of support we received was overwhelming."

The cause of the commotion was the refusal of the 1978 race permit by James Dukes, the City's Noise Abatement Officer.

"In response to complaints from previous years and a request from one of the City's Council members, I monitored the noise levels during the 1977 Unlimited hydroplane race," Dukes said. "These exceeded standards set for a residential area and I could not grant a permit under the existing circumstances."

The permit refusal was appealed by City Park and Recreation, the requesting department. "The Thunderboats race has come to mean a lot to many people in San Diego," George Loveland, the department's supervisor, said. "As such, we appealed Dukes' decision to the Noise Abatement Board."

The Board. which met mid-March, listened to testimony from Dukes, Loveland, members of the Thunderboats Board of Governor's and the public.

"We are not appealing Dukes decision on his decibal findings," Parisa said. "We know we're noisy. We're appealing on what we believe to be 3 very important factors: the predictibility of the race with dates, times and water hours all publicized well in advance; it's brief duration which lasts only four days once a year and, finally, its great benefits, not only to the City and the Boys' Club, but to the 100,000 fans who look forward to it each year."

Questions were raised by the Noise Abatement Board regarding possible research being done to lower the noise level. "Research is constantly underway," Steve Whalen, 1978 Race Chairman, said.

"So far, noise muffling devices have only slowed the speed of the boats and made them less competitive. Of course," he added, "we don't know what future research will produce. For the present, we are noisy — it's our calling card."

A member of the Noise Abatement Board, Dr. Maurice Sciff, a physician who specializes in hearing problems, said " . . . the possible damage would have to be considerably longer than one weekend."

The Board voted 5-3 to overturn Dukes decision and grant the 1978 race permit. It was a precedent-setting move on the Board's part which prompted them to restrict their decision to this particular event.

The Jack in the Box Thunderboats Race is scheduled to be held on Mission Bay from September 14-17. In addition to the race itself, the schedule of events includes additional activities which makes the event a week-long extravaganza.

Outdoors & Travel

By E. L. "Buck" Rogers

I'm not antisocial, but when I'm out hunting I'm a mite particular who I socialize with.

A good dog, for instance is just dandy. I don't mind visiting with a farmer about politics and the weather. And, I'll even put up with a few cockleburs in my socks under such circumstances.

But, not a whole batch of other hunters.

Elbow room was a coveted commodity back in Dan'l Boone's time, and it's even harder to come by today. But, it's still available of a man looks for it. It's just a little farther over the horizon.

There are a few wide open spaces left out west, but the vegetation is so sparse that they provide poor habitat for game. Canada offers excellent fly-in moose and deer hunting, and quality waterfowl shooting when ducks and geese head south for the winter. Much of Alaska is still wild and unexploited, and so are certain Central American countries. Poachers have cleaned out the Bengal tiger in India, and Africa seems to be going the same way. This continent's bountiful supply of big game animals is rapidly being decimated by commercial hide hunters, and the new rulers of these countries don't seem to be able to do much about it. I suspect that they don't even care.

So, that leaves South America.

This continent to the south of us contains the largest chunk of wilderness left on earth. Here are jungle trails that civilized man has not trod yet, stands of virgin forest, vast tracts of prairie known only to its wildlife inhabitants. It is sparsely populated, as most of its inhabitants live in the cities. Here is elbow room galore, the bountiful space that even ol' Dan'l would appreciate.

South America doesn't have the big game that Africa does, but it still is a hunter's paradise. European red stag and the giant Russian black boar roam the Andes slopes of western Argentina and are more plentiful than they ever were in their native lands. The jungle areas contain jaguar, cougar, two species of wild boar, tapir, capybara, and other smaller game animals.

But, the bird hunter is the one who will have a heyday here. Seasonal migrations of Antarctic ducks and geese allow Argentina to offer the best waterfowl hunting in the world. On the Caribbean coast, local species and migrants from North America provide an almost comparable situation. Several species of quail and jungle fowl abound here, and doves are as abundant as passenger pigeons once were in this country.

According to the Braniff Outdoor Council experts, there is still plenty of elbow room left for hunters, and most of it lies over the horizon to the south.

Scheduled 8-11 p.m., the game taped in Yuma will preview Channel 6's 1978 schedule of 22 televised Padre road contests. Jerry Coleman and Dave Campbell handle play-by-play.

Fans can expect to view action from such Japanese stars as national batting champ Tsutomu Wakamatsu, who earned his second title last year with a .358 average.

Other visiting standouts include first baseman Katsuo Osugi, with a .329 batting average, and pitcher Takeshi Yasudo, whose 2.95 earned run average was the best in the Swallows' league last season.

'Richest Program' Set for Hollypark

The richest program in thoroughbred racing history will be presented at Hollywood Park during the 1978 spring and summer season that begins April 12 it was announced this week.

"The purse program for 1978 is expected to total more than $13.3 million," said Vernon O. Underwood, Chairman of the Board. "Of that amount, $3.8 million will be distributed in 49 stakes." Both of those totals will be records, since Hollypark set the existing marks of $11.1 and $3.4 million, respectively, last year.

"In 1977, Hollywood Park became the first track ever to average more than $4 million per day in mutuel handle and in 1978 another-first will be recorded, when no stakes is run for a value of less than $40,000," added Underwood.

Aztec Nine To Play 30 of 39 Tilts Here

After playing one one of its first 11 games at Smith Field, the S.D. State U. baseball team comes home this week to face Dominguez Hills today and Friday and Pepperdine in a doubleheader on Saturday.

Dominguez Hills is in for a pair of night contests at 7 p.m. while Pepperdine is in for a S.C. Baseball Assn. doubleheader starting at noon. Following this week's games the Aztecs host S. Cal College Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The Aztecs play 30 of their next 33 games at Smith Field.

San Diego State is 7-4 overall and 2-2 in SCBA play, while Pepperdine is 6-3 overall and 1-0 in the conference.

Last week the Aztecs dropped a pair of games to Chapman College and split a conference doubleheader with UC Santa Barbara. The Aztecs topped the Gauchos 15-13 in the first game with an 11 run outburst in the ninth inning, but lost the nightcap 4-3.

Aztec coach Jim Dietz has named lefthanders Bud Black (2-0, 4.40 ERA) and Mike Finch (0-1, 1.88 ERA) as probably starting pitchers against Pepperdine.

Quarry Wins Split Over Wilson; Epps Boxes Barrientos Friday

For the first time in many years the S.D. Coliseum played to an overflow crowd.

Not only was the turnout big, but fans became so excited that a couple of pretty good battles broke out in the audience during the Mike Quarry-Ronnie Wilson 10-rounder. Another got started after the fight was over. Security broke them up. Quarry won a split decision but promised Wilson a return match after his fight in Las Vegas March 31 with Mike Spinks, brother of the new world heavyweight champion Leon Spinks.

It couldn't have been that the fans' scuffles were due to to dissatisfaction since they tossed more than $200 in the ring at the end of the card.

There's another card planned for this week. Friday at 8:15 the bell rings for a 10-round middleweight main go between Robbie Epps of East L.A. Lalo Barrientos, of Bakersfield.

Epps is reported to be the "hottest" middleweight prospect in S. California and is in great demand. His record is 17-2; 6 by KO's. Barrientos is the typical Mexican warrior who keeps the pressure targeted on the body.

Ricky Weigel of Pasadena faces Hector Fernandez of Tijuana in a 6-round junior middleweight scrap and Mike Rundel of San Diego squares off against Julii Cardenas of Long Beach in a 5-round welterweight battle. Lightweights Jose Castro of Mexicali and Oscar Armas of E. L.A. meet in a lightweight fight.

Ladies will be admitted free, whether escorted or not. Youngsters are also free but must be accompanied by an adult.

Back to last week's results. Len Provo of San Diego beat lightheavy Jim Ingram of Long Beach to run his record to 4-0 in 5 rounds. Jose Castro of Mexicali won a split decision over Bill Mathis of San Diego in 5 and David Barrera of Mexicali won a split from Julian Fuentes in 4 rounds.

In an amateur scrap, Mario Cabral of Spring Valley — a Mt. Miguel high school student, got a draw in a 3-rounder with Enrique Paredes.

The Coliseum is at 15th and E. sts. in downtown San Diego.

YOUNG PLAYERS — (from front to back) — Greg Rylaarsdam (with ball), Carl Taylor, Danny Morton, and Ronnie Sutton line up to take basket shots.

Every Youngster's in the Game In YMCA Youth Sports Program

Youngsters in Lemon Grove are participating in a new type of youth sports league.

The program, offered by the John Davis YMCA and Lemon Grove Community Schools, combines basic skills, fun and sportsmanship in a competitive sports program.

Known as the Youth Basketball Assn., it guarantees each youngster playing time in every game and takes time for values discussions centered around sportsmanship and fair play. Each child has a player scorecard to measure his improvement in basic skills during the season.

"We feel that overemphasis on competition can be more harmful than good for kids," said Ron Crosthwaite, Program Director at the Davis Y. "We try to put winning in perspective with other goals such as improving skills and developing respect for others and self esteem."

First Test in PCAA Tourney Tonight For Aztec Cagers

Forward Kim Goetz, S.D. State U.'s Long Ranger, leads his Aztec Firing Squad north tonight as the Aztecs open play in the Pacific Coast Athletic Assn. Basketball Tournament in the Anaheim Convention Center. San Diego State meets UC Santa Barbara at 9 p.m. in a first round game.

Goetz had his finest weekend as an Aztec last week, scoring 34 points against San Jose State and 23 against Pacific to lead the Aztecs to a share of the regular season PCAA Championship with Fresno State. He was named PCAA Co-Player of the Week for his efforts.

The Aztecs finished the regular season with an 18-8 record and were 11-3 in the PCAA. Goetz finished the regular season with a 17.4 scoring average and is shooting .513 from the field with the majority of his field goals coming from long range.

The rest of the Aztec Firing Squad consists of center Steve Malovic (13.3 average and shooting .535 from the field) and guard Mike Dodd (14.5 points and shooting .554). The man who triggers the Aztec offense is point guard Dean Decker who has 167 assists on the season and won the PCAA Assist Championship.

As a team, San Diego State is shooting .506 from the field (853 of 1687) and .729 from the free throw line (399 of 547).

The PCAA Tournament is a single elimination affair with the winner representing the conference in the 1st round of the NCAA Playoffs. In other first round PCAA games on Thursday, Long Beach State meets Pacific at 5 p.m. and Fullerton State plays San Jose State at 7 p.m. Fresno State draws a bye by virtue of a six point advantage over S.D. State in the two meetings between the teams.

The Aztecs have met UC Santa Barbara twice this season, belting the Gauchos 80-56 in the San Diego Sports Arena and 87-71 in Santa Barbara.

UCSB finished the regular season with an 8-18 record and was 3-11 in the conference and finished seventh.

Guard Matt Maderos is the Gaucho leader with a 15-7 scoring average and he is joined by Pete Aronchick at 15.3 and Tom Flavin at 10.3 in double figures.

"The PCAA Tournament is the key to the PCAA Playoffs," said Aztec coach Tim Vezie. "We aren't thrilled about having to play three nights in a row to win the tournament, but it must be done. Playing three straight nights is very demanding physically on the players.

"We must be on top of our game for three straight evenings and I really expect that if we make it to the finals, we will have to play three very tough games.

Roadrunners Here Friday For Hockey

Four games in four nights, including visits to all other PHL cities, constitute the week's activity for San Diego's Mariners. The Mariners play in San Francisco tonight, host Phoenix Friday and then travel to Phoenix the next evening and play in Long Beach on Sunday.

The streaking Mariners have pulled within 5 points of league leading Phoenix and San Francisco and a strong showing this week could put San Diego in position to take over the league lead. After Sunday's road game, the Mariners return to the Sports Arena for seven of their next nine games.

San Diego has won 4 of their last 5 games and now has a 12-14 record. The Mariners have one game in hand on Phoenix and two games in hand on San Francisco.

Friday's home game against the Roadrunners is extra important after the Runners beat San Diego here 3-1 last Friday. The Roadrunners hold a 5-3 season advantage over San Diego, the only club in the league to do so.

Friday's game will feature another of the Mariners precedent setting promotions—free cokes and popcorn all night long. It will also be Red Cross night with a tricycle race featuring local media personalities and a broomball game pitting newscasters and disc jockeys against the Red Cross girls.

Sunday in Long Beach, it will be the same hockey club but a new look as the Mariners face the renamed Long Beach Rockets. The Long Beach club was purchased this week by a group of Calgary investors and renamed the Rockets. The club will switch from black and silver uniforms to red, white and blue garb. Ted McCaskill remains as coach of the Sharks but Biff Reddin has replaced Jim Browitt as General Manager.

Aztec Spikers Host Cal Poly SLO Tonight

Friday the team will be in Santa Barbara to meet the Gauchos of UCSB, and on Saturday, top rated Pepperdine will host the Aztecs in Malibu. Starting time for the matches is 7:30 p.m., with the Santa Barbara and Pepperdine contests being SCIVA league matches.

The Aztecs raised their season record to 3-1 (2-1 in the S.C. Intercollegiate Volleyball Assn.) with a 5-game victory over Loyola on February 22. S.D. State took the first two games, 15-10, 15-2, then lost a pair of squeakers, both by 14-16 scores. Coach Rudy Suwara's team then decided matters with a 15-7 win.

County Assessor Mails Landlord, Personal Property Tax Bills

The mailing of 30,000 Business Personal Property Statements and 10,000 Landlord Statements by the County Assessor's office to business and rental property owners throughout San Diego County began last week end.

County Assessor E. C. Williams said that all business enterprises receiving the Personal Property Statement are required by law to declare their inventory, fixtures, equipment, and other taxable assets and to file this statement with his office by April 1.

"State law also allows business concerns to receive a 50% exemption on inventories," Williams points out, "but they must report their entire inventory to the Assessor, who then will calculate the amount of the exemption to be allowed.

Landlord Statements are mailed to owners of rental properties for a complete report of all personal property used in the furnishing of these properties. This statement, by law, must also be filed with the Assessor's office by April 1.

Those owning taxable personal property who do not receive these forms by March 15 should notify the Assessor's office by calling 236-3087, since it is the responsibility of the owner of these properties to secure the forms and file them by the due date.

Ask Your C.H.P.

CHP Capt. C. M. Douglas

Last week in this column Captain Douglas of the California Highway Patrol addressed a question on the California Vehicle Code.

If you have a question. no matter how insignificant it may appear to you, ask it. It could save you a citation, or it could even save your life.

Address your questions to this newspaper and please allow about three weeks for your answer to appear.

This Week's Question:

Last year I was involved in an auto accident with a driver who didn't have any insurance. What will happen to him?

Answer:

If a driver is involved in a traffic accident where there is damage to property in excess of $250 or results in injury or death of any one person, he must show proof of financial responsibility.

If he fails to show proof of financial responsibility to the department of Motor Vehicles in such a case, the DMV will suspend his driving privilege for a period of three years or until such person files and maintains proof of financial responsibility as required by the vehicle code.

Big Producer

In a single season a female halibut lays more than a million eggs.

Worker Evaluation Plan Dumped by DMV

The Department of Motor Vehicles is dumping the method it used to assess its personnel.

The method, dubbed MARC or Management Reporting and Control Program, came into existence in 1970 and will be replaced with a new program cost accounting system.

It will take 18 months to phase out MARC and a bit longer to find out if the performance of the DMV's 7,500 employees becomes better.

Ross to Manage Fair Horse Show

Allen Ross, long-time manager of the Santa Barbara National Horse Show at Santa Barbara, will serve in a similar capacity at the 89th annual Southern California Exposition at Del Mar, June 21 through July 4.

Ross succeeds Al Balch who was unable to return this year because of a schedule conflict.

He managed the Del Mar shows for several years in the 1950s and is largely responsible for Del Mar's rating as a major national event which now draws entries fram many of the Western states.

Approximately $50,000 in cash, ribbons and trophies will be offered horse show exhibitors, R. R. Richardson, president of the Expo's board of directors said.

The 1977 show drew 1500 exhibitors and more than 1800 horses, Richardson added.

Food Time For Trees

Avocado and citrus tree owners who have not fertilized their trees yet are reminded to do so since February and July are the two months during which nitrogen and zinc should be applied.

Trees lacking nitrogen will grow slowly and leaves will turn a pale yellow-green. Fertilizer should be applied in a band around the tree at the edge of the foliage and watered in. Recommended quantities are one half pound of nitrogen and 2 pounds of zinc sulfate for mature trees.

Metric System; How it Works

By John Corbett

Because kelvin units and Celsius degrees are equal temperature increments there is a constant mathematical relationship between the thermodynamic and Celsius temperatures.

Add 273-15 to Celsius temparature to get thermodynamic temperature.

Subtract 273-15 from thermodynamic temperature to get Celsius temperature.

As laboratory techniques improved it was observed that the triple point of pure water was not 0.00° C but was actually 0.01°C. Therefore, you will see absolute zero as being 273-15° below Celsius zero, and as being 273.16° below the triple point of pure water.

Thermodynamic — Celsius

Water boils: 373.15 K—100° C

Body temp: 310.15 K—37° C

Triple point of water:2731.6 —0.01C

Celsius Zero: 273.15 K—0.00° C

Absolute Zero: 0.00 K — -273-15° C

SUMMARY

The SI unit of temperature is the kelvin.

The kelvin is 1/273.16 of the thermodynamic temperature of the triple point of water.

The unit kelvin and its symbol K should be used to express an interval or difference of temperature.

In addition to the thermodynamic temperature expressed in kelvins, Celsius temperature may also be used.

Celsius temperature is expressed in degrees Celsius.

The degree Celsius is equal to the unit kelvin.

The word "centigrade" should not be used relative to temperature.

Race for Recycling

A 10,000 m run open to everyone will be held at Balboa Park, March 12, 9 a.m.

The run is sponsored by the S.D. Ecology Centre which hopes the event will raise sufficient money for a teaching kit on recycling. Registration fees are $2 for those under 16 years of age, $3 for adults and $4 for late entries. Application forms are available from the centre at 235-0066.

Pinter Plays on Boards At Carter Center Stage

"Old Times," a contemporary drama by one of England's most distinguished dramatists opens Tuesday at the Carter Centre Stage in Balboa Park.

The Harold Pinter Play will continue for five weeks through April 2.

Performances of the Old Globe Theatre production will be staged nightly except Monday at 8 p.m. plus Sunday Matinees at 2 p.m.

"Old Times" focuses on a husband and wife awaiting the arrival of another woman, a longtime friend of the wife whom she hasn't seen for 20 years. Her presence becomes a threat to the marriage of the middle-aged couple.

"Old Times" delves into the past and present of each character illuminating unspoken doubts and revealing tensions which rise between them.

At the conclusion which ends optimistically, each of the characters has been changed by the confrontation. Simple, ordinary conversation becomes extraordinary and illuminating when dramatically written by Harold Pinter.

Guest director for "Old Times" is Jack Bender, who staged "A Trip to Chinatown" two years ago at the Old Globe Theatre. He recently directed "Moonchildren" at USC and was formerly assistant director at the Mark Tuper Forum in Los Angeles.

Denis Arndt appears as a professional guest artist in "Old Times." Most recently he has played leading roles at the Seattle Repertory, ACT in Seattle and the Oregon Shakespeare Festival prior to his San Diego debut.

Kandis Chappell, as the wife, has previously acted at the Carter Centre Stage in leading roles in "The Queen and The Rebels" and "'After Magritte" and at the Old Globe Theatre in "Ring Round the Moon." Julia Bradley Frampton makes her 9th appearance at the Old Globe Theatre in the past 13 years, acting in both comedy and drama in both the Carter Centre Stage and the Old Globe Theatre.

Craig Noel is producing director of the Old Globe Theatre.

Junk Phone Call Issue Dropped in Lap of PUC

LOS ANGELES — The State Public Utilities Commission has begun an investigation into commercial enterprises who solicit business via taped phone calls.

The PUC investigation will check out if such phone calls violate a citizen's right of privacy.

The commission also rejected proposals by 29 telephone companies as to what charges businesses should be assessed for tieing up phone lines with "junk calls".

The tariffs filed by the companies were found to be inconsistent and in need for uniform rules.

Since the phone companies did not do what the commission required, the study by the PUC will gather needed information to set the rules themselves.

Johnny Cash in SD For 2 Performances

Recording, stage and television artist Johnny Cash brings his show of country and western music to the Civic Theatre March 12 for performances at 4:30 and 8 p.m.

Appearing with Cash in the KSON presentation will be his wife, June Carter, the Carter family, Jan Howard and the Tennessee Three.

Cash's career began in 1955 with the release of his first hit singles, "Cry, Cry, Cry" and "Hey, Porter," recorded with Marshall Grant and Luther Perkins, the original Tennessee Two.

Known as "America's singing storyteller," Cash performs in elegant theaters throughout the world as well well as in prison yards from San Quentin to Stockholm. Wherever he sings, he shows that one can be a super-star without losing touch with his fans.

June Carter, first gaining fame as part of the singing Carter Family, became Mrs. Johnny Cash in 1968 and has teamed with her husband to produce such hits as "Jackson" and "If I Were t Carpenter."

Cash has sold more than 50 million records and, by his own count, has composed over 1,000 songs. Winner of four Grammy and four Country Music awards, he also holds a CMA "Entertainer of the Year" honor.

Unanswered Traffic Ticket Now Basis For License Refusal

California drivers may now face the frustrating reality that the Department of Motor Vehicles has refused to renew their license due to unresolved traffic offenses or even a case of mistaken identity.

Senator Dennis E. Carpenter has introduced legistlation to correct this problem.

The new existing law requires the court to notify the DMV of a person's failure to appear in court, to deposit bail, or to pay a fine concerning a traffic offense. Once notified, the DMV is prohibited from issuing or renewing a driver's license until a certificate is filed indicating the case has been settled.

Senator Carpenter's bill would require the DMV to notify the licensee within 30 days of receiving the notice from the court.

"It seems unrealtistic to me to withhold issuing or renewing a license from a person without forewarning," Carpenter said. "Knowing the bumbling bureaucracy, it is entirely possible that many licenses could be withheld through error."

"It at least seems fair that. as SB 1417 would require, the DMV should notify the licensee affected and allow that person the opportunity to settle any outstanding court procedures before such person finds themself with the extreme inconvenience of having no drivers license, and it would also serve to expedite DMV and court precedures" the Senator concluded.

Cornell Alumni Party

An alumni party for San Diego area Cornell College graduates has been planned for March 8.

The party will be held in the Town and Country Hotel and will begin at 6 p.m., according to a spokesman for the Mt. Vernon, Iowa base school.

The candy sale is the primary fund raising event for the Lemon Grove Bobby Sox.

S.D. Job Placements Grow; 37,864 Jobless Draw Aid

California's State Employment offices in San Diego County made a total of 2,815 job placements in January, it was reported by the Employment Development Department (EDD).

It is an increase of 14.8 percent from the December placement total of 2,453 and was 52 percent higher than the 1,851 placed in January 1977.

For the current fiscal year (October through January) EDD has made 11,340 placements, compared with 8,322 in the same four-month period in 1976-77 for an increase of 36.3 percent.

The corresponding figure for October through January 1975-76 was 6,198. This is an increase of 83 percent for the two-year period.

Meanwhile, a late January survey in San Diego County shows 37,864 unemployed people claiming jobless benefits under several programs administered by EDD.

A total of 29,338 were claiming under the basic unemployment insurance program financed by California employers, which provides up to 26 weeks of benefits ranging from $30 to $104 weekly, based on previous earnings.

Another 3,943 were claiming under an extension of the basic program that allows up to 13 more weeks of benefits during a period of high unemployment if the claimant still is looking for work.

A temporary federal program provides for a further extension of the benefits during the current period of exceptionally high unemployment for jobseekers who have exhausted their claims under the other programs.

In January 450 were claiming under this extension, which allows up to 13 weeks of additional benefits if the claimant still is seeking work.

Similar programs pay benefits to ex-federal employees and to ex-military personnel. In the January survey, 597 former federal employees and 2,391 former military personnel were claiming benefits under these programs.

Another temporary program is providing federally-funded benefits to other jobseekers who are not covered by the insurance programs. Under this Special Unemployment Assistance (SUA) program, 1,145 were claiming benefits in the survey period.

'Sight Week' To Be Marked

"Life is Worth Seeing" is the theme for the 1978 observance of Save Your Vision Week, March 5-11. President Carter has proclaimed the week as a time for all Americans to take action to preserve their gift of sight with proper preventive health care.

In San Diego County, the San Diego County Optometric Society and its affiliated Auxiliary are the primary organizations charged with carrying out the President's wishes for a successful observance.

Despite all the scientific advances made in the last 116 years, many Americans are still relying on the eye chart which was developed during the Civil War, to check their ability to see.

This test alone, does not test the entire vision system. Americans have the right to receive complete vision care and should receive the following care:

1) A Comprehensive Examination on the first visit, usually taking from 30 to 60 minutes; 2) The taking of a health history as often medicines prescribed for other illnesses affect the vision system; 3) An exterior and interior examination of the eyes for signs of disease, as many illnesses show up in the eyes first; 4) A test of visual ability to se clearly at near and at far; 5) A check to test the ability of the eyes to work together and 6) A check for glaucoma if you are over 35.

Telltale signs of vision problems: A) sitting too close to the television so that you can see clearly; B) holding the book too close to your face to read it clearly; C) squinting to read road signs, etc. D) sitting on the sidelines instead of enjoying the games others are playing and E) causing problems in the classroom instead of paying attention.

Consult your local optometrist if any of these signs show up and he will warn you of others.

1977 Totals

Disability Payments Top $400 Million

Figures released by the California Employment Development Department may show Californians were sicker during 1977 than they were during 1976.

The EDD reported they paid out more than $400 million in State Disability Insurance monies, some $10 million more than in 1976.

Most of the money, about $397 million, went to monthly benefit payments. The average weekly claim was $91.36 as compared to $89.55 for 1976 monthly averages.

Of the other claims paid out, $580,000 went to mothers who took time out from their jobs to have children.

TREASURES OF TUTANKHAMUN — The Child King in porcelain, recreated in the U.S. is one of several pieces being shown in La Jolla.

King Tut's Glory Reflected In Porcelain

by Susanne Williams

Tutmania, the craze for Egyptian boy-king Tutankhamun and the treasures found in his tomb some fifty years ago, has not only stirred the hearts and minds of countless Americans but also the imagination of manufacturers.

The newest addtion to the numerous replica of Tut's treasures is presently on exhibit in La Jolla — a unique 20-piece collection of porcelain reproductions made by the Boehm Studios.

Boehm's porcelain figurines of animals and people are accurate, detailed copies of real life situations, cherished by collectors and exhibited in museums around the world.

The Tutankhamun Collection, commissioned by the Republic of Egypt and the Organization of Egyptian Antiquities in cooperation with the Metropolitan Museum of Art and other museums, does full honor to the Studios' reputation and is guaranteed to secure a special place in future art shows and auctions.

Molded from finest porcelain and covered with pure gods, the gods Anubis, Selket an Bastett emerge in new splendor. A lotus, a falcon head, scarabs in all sizes and other priceless objects are carefully reproduced to capture magnificence and artistry of the original pieces.

And yes, the Boehm collection is for sale, although in limited numbers and at somewhat royal prices.

Introduced Saturday by Boehm representative George Barker during an one-hour slide show/lecture, the collection will be on display until March 31 at Guddies', 7840 Girard ave., La Jolla, daily 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

It contains 20 pieces, includ Tut's death mask, as well as a ing a small-scale replica of jewelry collection. Prices range from $45 to almost $3,000.

Some of the limited-issue pieces, Barker explained, are already sold out. Some which proved to be extremely popular have been reissued. And all contain the company's hallmark with references to the government of Egypt and the Antiquities Association.

Profits of the sale incidentally, are split 90:10 between Boehm's Studios and the association which will use the funds for restoration projects. ects.

County School Board Blasts Jarvis-Gann

Labeling it "devasting" and "irresponsible," the San Diego County Board of Education has voted unanimously to oppose the Jarvis-Gann tax initiative which seeks to limit to 1% of fair market value the amount of collectable property tax for public services, including schools.

Board members said if voters approve the initiative — Proposition 13 on the June ballot — schools and other public agencies financially would not be able to provide the services required by law.

Preliminary statistics compiled by the San Diego County Department of Education show that the operating budgets of the county's 48 school districts would automatically be reduced by $207 million if Jarvis passes. Depending on the district involved, school budgets would be cut by one-third to one-half, county officials said.

The county's department's operating budget would be reduced by approximately 37% or $9 million.

Taking its action, the county board of education joins San Diego city schools and the California School Boards Association (CSBA) in opposing the initiative.

Passage of Jarvis would result in a local property tax revenue loss statewide of $7 to $8 billion, plus an unknown loss of federal revenue sharing funds, county officials said.

"I think the average guy down the street will vote for this think with a snap of the finger," said county board member Pat Hyndman, third district representative. "A good many people — including me — would love to see this thing fail by one vote and scare the legislature out of its wits."

Most observers feel the initiative will pass unless the legislature comes up with a bill substantially reducing property taxes.

Board members criticized the initiative for being poorly-drawn and for dealing only with property tax reduction without mentioning alternative revenue sources.

According to the initiative, the property taxes would be collected by the county and apportioned according to law to the districts within the county. Officials said the initiative is not specific on how the property taxes are to be apportioned among the various taxing agencies, but it is being assumed they will be distributed to schools in the same ratio received in 1977-78.

County Superintendent of Schools M. Ted Dixon said the initiative impacts the total community.

"I don't consider this a school problem, a police problem or a fire problem." he said. "It's really a community problem. The voters need to decide whether or not they are willing to give up adequate services involving schools, county government and city government which include such essentials as proper school programs, police protection, fire protection, health and other services for the public."

Dixon added the initiative would lock into the constitution specifics which should be the responsibility of the legislature.

The initiative provides for increase in the level of state taxation to be approved by a two-thirds vote of registered voters.

Sen. Mills Cites Goals As Member of Amtrak's Board

Senate President Pro Tem James R. Mills (D-San Diego) has listed his priorities as a new Amtrak board member.

The priorities include promoting greater efficiency in Amtrak operations and delivering a larger share of the Amtrak operating dollar to California.

Mills' nomination to the National Railroad Passenger Corporation Board of Directors by President Jimmy Carter last October has now been confirmed by the U.S. Senate.

"California has shown what is needed to promote fast, intercity rail transportation between Los Angeles and San Diego," Mills said. "As a result, passenger growth in that corridor has outstripped every other short-haul service in the nation. But evidently that achievement hasn't been recognized by Amtrak economists.

"California," the senator continued, "has ten percent of the country's population, pays twelve percent of total federal tax dollars and generates nine percent of Amtrak's total passenger miles.

"Yet this state receives only four percent of Amtrak's $510 million budget. That's an inequity which will get my closest attention."

Mills said he intends to determine how to promote greater use of employees and equipment in order to generate more service and revenue.

Mills compared the current gas situation and transportation dilemmas with the Vietnam War.

"This nation is in the middle of a war which is costing the country more per year than we spent in Vietnam. Even at its peak the defense budget for the Vietnam war was almost $90 billion a year while last year we poured $43 billion into petroleum imports.

"No nation, not even this one, can withstand that kind of financial drain on its economy for very long without straining its economic fiber, something we are already seeing in the weakening of the dollar.

"Amtrak has an obligation to provide economic, energy-efficient alternative transportation for millions now chained to automobiles. I intend to do my utmost to honor that obligation as a board member."

Mills is the first Californian named to the board since Amtrak was formed in 1971.

His first meeting on the Amtrak Board will be in Washington on Wednesday.

TV Shows Rated

Kotter, Kojak, Foxx Get Thumbs Down from PTA

The National PTA in Chicago has issued a list of the television programs it thinks warrant removal from the air.

Included in a list of "poorest in overall quality" was: Soap (ABC), Redd Foxx Show (ABC), Maude (CBS), NBC Movies: Man from Atlantis (NBC), Kojak (CBS), Three's Company (ABC), Welcome Back, Kotter (ABC), and Busting Loose (CBS).

These programs were selected for a variety of reasons including what the PTA called "offensively portrayed sexuality and violence, stereotyping of women and minorities, and general lack of program quality and entertainment value."

What the PTA suggested for viewing included: Little House on the Prairie (NBC), Eight Is Enough (ABC), Fitzpatricks (CBS), Rafferty (CBS), Waltons (CBS), Grizzly Adams (NBC), Donny and Marie (ABC), Mulligan's Stew (NBC), World of Disney (NBC), and Sixty Minutes (CBS).

The Chicago based national organization rated the National Broadcasting Network as the poorest of the big three while tagging CBS with the honor of best.

CHP To Begin Study On CB Radio Use

The California Highway Patrol in El Cajon will begin operating 39 new citizens band radios during a 60-day experimental program to determine CB effectiveness.

CHP Commissioner Glen Craig said some 38 bases for the highway patrol would be eventually equipped with the radios and that those radios would have a channel 9 (emergency channel) override capability.

"It will take about a month before radios are installed," Craig said. "Motorists can expect us to be on the air about March 1."

After a temporary break-in period, the two month experimental phase will begin in early April. The University of Southern California will collect statistics on use and response to the CHP citizens band radio project and evaluate the program's effectiveness.

Craig added in some areas CHP patrolmen use their own CB units and will continue to do so.

Cats' 'Hot Line'

Locating a lost cat can be facilitated by having felines registered with the S.D. County Humane Society.

More than 11,000 cat owners have already taken advantage of the society's voluntary cat registration program initiated in 1970. The cost is $4 for 4 years registration.

A stretch collar with a brass tag are issued. The tag reads: "I'm lost, call 299-7012". The tag carries a serial number.

Cats wandering away from home and delivered to the Humane Society, can be easily identified and returned to their owners. The telephone is 299-7012.

Library Use Encouraged

The answer to many irritating problems can be found in your local library, which offers much more than book lending.

"Your Neighborhood Consumer Resources — The Public Library", a booklet published by the U. S. Office of Education, offers ideas on how to use a library effectively and how to find pertinent information.

The booklet can be ordered from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 643F, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. A copy of the Consumer Information Catalog containing a list of publications available from the Federal government, will be included. The publications are free of charge.

Child Psychiatric Aid Available in El Cajon

A program of children's psychiatric services in East San Diego County has been approved by San Diego County Board of Supervisors.

The Supervisors unanimously voted to direct the County Mental Health Services to operate the partial day treatment program center near El Cajon.

This new program was part of the Short Doyle Plan approved by the Board in May of 1977 and is under the current fiscal year's budget.

Under the Plan, the County took bids for the service program, but no viable bids were produced. Now the program will be operated by the County.

Staffing for the facility will be done by the Civil Service and Personnel Departments with General Services Department directed to locate an office of 3,200 square feet. The Mental Health Department was ordered to purchase needed capital equipment.

The only existing children's day treatment program is located in the Kearny Mesa area. An estimated 60 to 75 children will benefit from the new East County service center.

Mogul is Mayor

P. T. Barnum, besides being a circus mogul, was also mayor of Bridgeport, Conn.

Sups Housing Measure On Ballot Again

Voters in June will consider reapproval of an ordinance permitting leasing or selling of unincorporated county land for low-rent housing project construction. The ordinance will omit any County of San Diego management role.

The Board of Supervisors voted 4-1 to approve the ballot measure pursuant to the California Constitution, Article 34.

County voters approved a referendum to Article 34 in November of 1976 allowing development, construction and acquisition of low-rent housing projects with a maximum of 1,000 dwelling units.

The former ballot measure provided that the County would have no ownership interest in these projects except for financing.

However, the Board of Supervisors agreed that prohibiting public ownership might create legal consequences for the County and the County Housing Authority which support the low-rent projects development.

The ordinance ballot measure will be resubmitted to voters in June reflecting the premise that the County may retain ownership but have no management interests in these projects except for financing through state and local funding.

S.V. Man Heads S&L Committee

Joseph F. Turner, of Spring Valley, who is vice president and personnel director for Home Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of San Diego, has been appointed as chairman of the 1978 Personnel Committee of the California Savings and Loan League.

The California Savings and Loan League is the trade association for the $80 billion California savings and loan industry. California is the largest savings and loan state in the nation with assets more than twice those of the number two state, Illinois.

A graduate of S.D. State U., Turner joined Home Federal in 1973 as assistant vice president and personnel director. He was previously employed by First National Bank of Fresno from 1971 to 1973 as assistant vice president and worked 11 years for Southern California First National Bank.

Turner is a member of the American Society for Training and Development and the Personnel Management Assn.

Building Permits Drop

Building permits in San Diego County during the first month of the year totaled 824 with a value of $21,666,717.

The same period last year the total was 1,297 units with a value of $35,444,334.
